Buy your next machine with confidence at Mach4Metal

With a large and constantly changing inventory and more than 30 years of experience, we advise based on your application, manage logistics and documentation, and deliver worldwide. A smart investment without unnecessary risks, backed by clear agreements and proven quality.

Selection and request

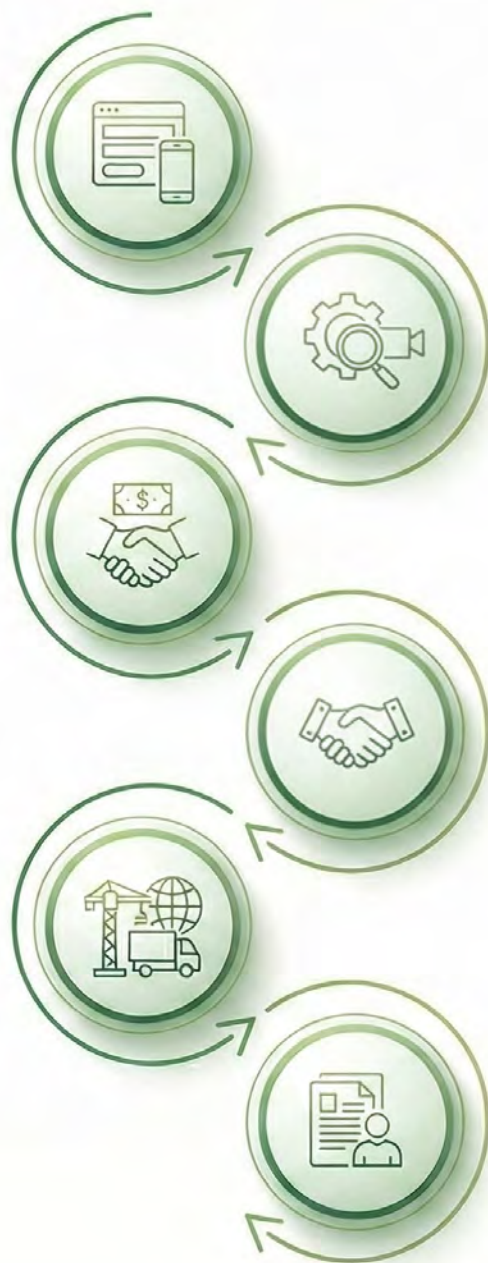

You select a machine on our website or share your specifications. We confirm availability and provide a non-binding quotation.

Purchase agreement

Price, delivery time, conditions and options are documented, including accessories, overhauls or modifications. You know exactly what will be delivered.

Delivery and handover

Delivery takes place on the agreed date and location, anywhere in the world. You receive all documentation and verify the delivery for completeness and condition.

Technical advice and inspection

A specialist discusses performance, condition and suitability. We demonstrate the machine by appointment, on-site or via video. All relevant data and test results are made available.

Logistical preparation

We schedule dismantling where required, professional packaging and transport. CMR and any export or customs documentation are arranged. Planning and safety procedures are coordinated with your team.

Aftercare

We remain available for questions regarding installation, operation and maintenance. If you require spare parts or additional capacity, we advise immediately.
